Statement of Copyright Protection

The Content and Materials which constitute this Course, including videos, and other documents, are protected by U.S. and international Copyright law, and may not be copied, distributed or communicated in any format or medium, either electronically or physically. Printouts of documents may be made for personal use only — such printouts may not be redistributed in electronic or physical form.

Statement of Course Contents and Materials

The Content and Materials which constitute this Course include (but are not limited) to the following: the expression, explanations, description and language used for the calculation algorithms, methods and concepts covered in the course; the graphical representations of calculation algorithms, procedures, and problems; the examples, practice problems, and solution methods included in the course; the specific numerical properties of these examples, and practice problems; the diagrams, figures and other visual aids included in the course; language, course-specific terminology, and other stylistic elements of the course content; editorial choices about which methods, concepts, examples, diagrams, and practice problems to include; the sequencing of all of the course content and elements — these and other aspects of the Course shall be referred to as the Course Contents and Materials. All of these portions, aspects, and properties of the Course Content and Materials are therefore protected by US and International Copyright law and are the sole Intellectual Property of Matthew Tambiah.

Statement of License for Personal Use Only of Course Contents and Materials

Purchase of this course grants you a personal license which authorizes you to consume, view, and use the Course Contents and Materials for personal use only. You are not authorized to, and you may not replicate, copy, or distribute any portion of Course Content and/or Materials to others; you may not communicate any portion of the Course Content and/or Materials to others in written, verbal, visual, or graphical format either physically or electronically. You may not publish or communicate any portion of the Course Content and/or Materials in any medium in a public or private forum including, but not limited to, a web site, webinar, video or audio stream or media file, blog or Internet forum post lecture, workshop, conference, presentation, or lesson beyond what is covered by personal use (e.g. viewing by a small group of family and/or friends). Doing so constitutes a “Public Performance” of the Course Contents and Materials and therefore constitutes copyright infringement which will make you liable for damages. You must ensure that anybody who accesses or views the Course Contents and/or Materials under your personal license reads and is aware of the FASTMATH Intellectual Property Statement and Terms of Service. You may not create derivative works of the Course Content and/or Materials.

You certainly cannot use the Course Contents and Materials in any commercial setting, which includes, but is not limited to, the inclusion of any portion of the Course Content and/or Materials in any commercial product or service (whether public or private), using any portion of Course Content and/or Materials to attract customers for or to promote another commercial product or service, or using any portion of Course Content and/or Materials to generate revenue from advertisements.

Terms of Service
